Credly Badges

Credly is a badging platform that works with credible organizations to recognize, manage and share professional achievements. Credly is the world's leading digital credential service provider.

Credly badges, earned after completing courses IBM SkillsBuild, offer several advantages

1. Professional Recognition: Credly badges serve as visible proof of your achievements. When you claim a badge, it becomes part of your digital profile, showcasing your skills and knowledge to potential employers, peers, clients, and partners.
2. Portable Credentials: These digital badges are web-enabled and can be shared across various platforms, including websites, social media, resumes, and email signatures. They allow you to carry your accomplishments with you wherever you go.
3. Granular Information: Each badge contains verified information about your specific achievement. Employers can evaluate your potential based on the detailed outcomes represented by these credentials.
4. Secure and Validated: Credly's platform ensures the integrity of badges. It guards against false claims and provides a layer of protection for high-stakes credentials.
5. Structured Pathway: IBM SkillsBuild credentials offer a structured pathway for showcasing your learning journey, comprehension, practical skills, and professional growth in the marketplace.

Claiming Credly badges not only validates your accomplishments but
